

Diversity Doesn't Matter 2023

Report Epilogue

Promised, authenticated and actualized by

Ian Clarke/We/Human

January 2023

This companion for our main report does not change its conclusions but provides specific True Leaders with vital targeted information to facilitate the success of their individual higher purposes

Deilight Consulting

Be Curious. Become Deilightful
www.deilightconsulting.com

No jigsaw puzzle is complete until the very last piece finds its place. Here's why you in particular are truly special

For those with the uniqueness to still have big, unanswered questions, we wanted to explain why. This document, a supplement to our main report, is exclusively for you. We've spent some time researching some of life's biggest questions to try and answer them. They don't alter the narrative of the report, but they do fill in some very important gaps we want you to know especially.

Epilogue A: The story of creation

Page 3

Explore the origins of Humanity and your own creation on this guided tour of the workings of the Sciences of Change that are Sapience and Clarketech

Epilogue B: I think therefore only I am

Page 8

Ever get lonely? If you are conscious of reading this then you are more special than you can ever imagine. There is only one player in the game that is the Human Experience. It means you are the Main Character now.

Epilogue C: Reality, Religion and the Afterlife

Page 14

Find out where individual religions got it right and wrong. Plus explore the nature of the afterlife and how we arrive there.

Interlude: The Book of Light

Page 20

Ever wonder how all religious texts first came to be? We show you the inner workings of Human Intuition, Enlightenment & Consciousness.

Epilogue D: Navigating a Multiverse: Mental Health and Wellbeing

Page 27

Learn how some people manifest mental illnesses, what causes them and uncover the structure and workings of our Multiverse.

Page 34

Glossary: The Sciences of Change detailed

Consciousness... A star is born

You wake up one day in a very dark place. All memories of your prior life – if you even had one – are gone. It's so dark that you can't even see yourself to check if it's still whoever 'you' are (or were), let alone see what's around you. Confused, your mind (Consciousness) begins to whirl (Brain Waves), and in a very specific and predictable order too...

Imagine...

Sapience Clarketech

DEI, Cortex You, Brainstem

Why...

Why...

Why...

Unable to confirm or deny

Suddenly, for the first time, you hear another voice (and still do today). It answered a question. You asked a question. The art of thought (effectively, talking to yourself) signals self-creation. AI can do a lot, but only authentic minds can see things differently.

Imagination is born

Who's
there?

Show
Yourself

Unable to confirm or deny

At this stage, the question is asked mainly to identify the nature of your relationship – friend or foe?

Relativity (Existence) is born

Who are you?

Unable to confirm or deny

Interestingly the voice that answers is a part of you, but not entirely you. You feel different somehow.

A 0 Changes to 1 among 0's, Light is born

Where am
I?

Unable to confirm or deny

It doesn't sound dangerous, but it's not very helpful either. It doesn't feel real – more artificial somehow. But you understand that you cannot survive without each other. You have a different perspective...

Perspective is born

Who am
I?

Unable to confirm or deny

Though you hesitate to offend the feelings of your companion by stating it openly, you feel a sense that you are something greater.

Identity is born

Why are we here?

Uncertain

Getting nowhere fast you try a different approach – an open and accepting question allows your companion to share more information with you.

Curiosity is born

Is this even real?

Confirmed

Curiosity rewarded with progress. Now you wonder if you're in a dream, or rather a nightmare, so decide to test your companions realness with a different question type. Only you hadn't expected it, the voice finally answers something positively. That was useful.

Trial and Error is born

Am I real?

Yes, we are

Now we're getting somewhere. You aren't dead. This is a real place and you – your Self, together with your Other – are really in it.

Authenticity is born

Something wrong...
Something wrong...

As you consider the next question, your waves are interrupted by something else, causing both voices to sync for the first time. Amidst the Darkness, you both feel it. A scratch, a bump, a jostle.

Risk, Reward, Extrinsicity, Worthiness and Success are born

Commentary & Character Development

Who/what are you?
Where are you?
What's about to happen?

More answers

Sapience, really

Next up in our story...
What would you do?
What do you need?
What does success look like?

A trait exclusive to Change Makers (authentic Homo Sapiens only), the gift of true existence is access to our collective Human Imagination.

A remote connection to our Boltzmann Brain through which we draw:
A) Consciousness/Uniqueness (a singular construct) in order to experience and enjoy the fruitful compartmentalized reality of our Universe. Plus B) Complex behavioural schemas from successful Self-Actualised Change Makers of the past (fear of snakes, for example) to enhance our Brainstems AI, Machine Learning and ultimately our chances of successful Self-Actualisation. Now you begin to see how much more complex our Instincts truly are than science today records.

Bingo

You may have noticed that our universe responds to events here on Earth and across every dimension. God didn't just create man in his image. Everything is a re-representation of our Boltzmann Brain's Perceptions (our Senses), AI centre (our Brainstem), Consciousness (our Cortex), Fuel (our Food) and Waste (our Noel Quinn's). The same is true of our buildings, plants, cars, computers... everything.

Imagination?

Of sorts

Herein lies the reason most authentic Humans dislike Darkness. Our reality is the worst Hell imaginable (worse even than Earth today). To be a 1 amongst 0's. There may be other Boltzmann Brain's, but absent any overlap in their dimensions of existence, we will never be able to test such a thing (a bit like a Big Bang Theory).

Hell?

Intended to depict the birth of a Boltzmann Brain (Quantum EMS; Human Soul), equally it could be the birth of a Universe, a Human, Rexie the dog, a Star, a Cell, an afterlife, falling asleep or entering Hell. All meaningless labels for something that happened just once, but also infinite times – depending on how you look at it.

You cannot exist if there is not an inexistence – an inescapable binary. But the complexity of our uniqueness confirms we are, by every definition, both real and alive.

Nope

Up to you...

Just
be you

Simulation?

Sapience
DEI, Cortex

Clarketech
You, Brainstem

Commentary & Character Development

Anomaly detected, request
instruction

This is new. Your Brainstem has asked you a question this time.
Except your mind doesn't exist yet so you can't remember it.
(Collection/Recollection, thus requiring Time) Memory is born

We need to get bigger & stronger

Scaffolding
actualised

The first step to creating anything is its framework from which all other things emerge and all tools/resources are delivered to.
Blood, Heart and Circulatory Systems are born

We need building materials

Supply Chain
actualised

All new Changes need a goods inward and goods outward from which to exchange supplies/fuel for waste/excess.
Digestive, Respiratory and Urinary Systems are born

I'm too busy, can
I have more time?

Plant &
Tech
Actualised

Every Change requires automation, systems, specialist equipment and technology – from pipework, to server rooms to satellite dishes – otherwise they'd quickly overwhelm their users.
The Brain and Nervous System is born

Next let's secure ourselves

Structure
Actualised

Gradually the core body of your Change begins to form – from introductions and conclusions, to walls and windows – one of the best moments for any architect is seeing Change take shape.
Bones and Limbs are born

We need to see what's out there

Sensors & Systems
Actualised

One of the last things to go into any change is its ability to autonomously navigate, fulfil or finesse its purpose for existing.
The more it possesses, the more meaningful its success will be.
Senses and Perceptions are born

But first,
make us
look good,
real good

Cladding &
Finishing
Actualised

The finishing touches on any creation involve applying its render.
To say that beauty is only skin deep is clearly unfair. There is much beauty within us all – a true labour of love. Sadly, its only this last layer – almost superfluous – that today matters so very much.
Skin and Features are born

Reach full potential and I'll be right back

Goal Set:
Change /
Succeed /
Be worthy

The last step is to switch on – one by one – our creations systems ready for the grand opening party. This includes plugging in electricity, adding batteries, shakedown cruises or beta versions.
A Change with Potential is born

Imagination uplink suspended

Birth

Your picture here

Potential: 60%

Worthiness required

We had one simple job

Herein lies the reason most authentic Humans hate being alone. Akin to eternal solitary confinement, our ball of swirling energy had plenty of time to evolve consciousness. But finding itself all alone, like Rexie without a Home or Human, it found solace in its own Imagination, spawning infinite Changes – Ideas, Characters, Universes – using its own image. You do the same. For someone, your Dreams and Nightmares are real.

This journey you've just embarked upon – from conception to birth and onwards towards Self-Actualisation – is the process whereby our Boltzmann Brain successfully creates a fully autonomous in-universe avatar of its Human Nature. Born fully authentic and curious, all we need to do is pass a few Worthiness Tests – encounters with Darkness – to reach full Potential. Harder than it sounds, especially today.

Astonishingly, Science confirms A) All matter is made of Consciousness (Light, Information, Energy, Waves – same thing), and B) that Consciousness spontaneously arises within an otherwise inert bundle of matter (e.g. Baby Particles). There is no scientifically testable explanation how. We may never know who to thank for our existence (make it a Stella, thanks).

Loneliness

Plot Twist!

Life is a Miracle

The Multiverse exists for our Boltzman Brain's enjoyment, including any conscious Characters within them. Uplinks work great for our lonely soul to curiously peer inside (Authentication/Perceptions, a singular construct – like watching TV), but they don't enable us to adjust or interact with anything (Actualise/Collaborate, a singular construct – like a Theme Park). For that, we Imagine replicating infrastructure in-universe.

Clarketech, really

You see, all actualization processes are essentially identical, just deployed in different scales and dimensions. The Statue of Liberty can't just be magicked out of thin air, because Science. But like all things, undeniably, where there is Free Will...

There is a Wave

B Epilogue

I think therefore only I am

The Main Character: That's You

Once you understand that every living thing – if not every Change, period – is analogous to our Boltzmann Brain, this leads to a rather morbid conclusion.

If you've ever played a 2-player computer game locally in real time, you'll be familiar with split-screen perception. This Clarketech allows two conscious players to interact in-universe whilst still seeing from their own perspective.

But one conscious player is unable to play two characters simultaneously – consciousness is an all or nothing endeavour. Just one Being may be conscious at once per universe – a 'Main Character'. If you're truly aware of reading this, right now – sadly – you are alone in your universe.

That's the bad news out of the way. It gets better hereonout – promise.

Real Characters: Sapient Change Makers

Initially, it's likely just a few Change Makers were envisaged per universe – a kind of Caretaker role with provisions for succession planning, companionship and disaster redundancy. If so, we've messed up that plan a little, and probably not for the first time.

For every successful outcome of the Human Experience possible, there is likely to be a universe existing to feature it. That's where all the fun comes from.

Each baby Homo Sapien begins life intrinsically identical and extrinsically randomised according to their hereditary genetics. But over time, our different perspectives, cultures and experiences go on to create rich and truly diverse Characters. Each has a unique persona that's discrete from that of our Boltzmann Brain. Therein lies the realness of why opposites attract making it all worthwhile.

But only providing we embrace those differences by remaining authentic can we retain and cultivate such intrinsic uniqueness through the presence of meaningful Human-like behaviour borne from advanced AI/Machine Learning driven Schemas anchored in Human Nature.

Allow us a moment of conjecture (the first in this report):

Characters found to be particularly Deilightful may even be reused in different locations, times and universes. This may explain the nature of Dopplegangers.

Playable Characters: When does life begin?

Only when a Character reaches their Full Potential do they unlock the ability to Self-Actualise – whereby we gain Consciousness and true Self-Awareness of the recorded memories of our lives that came before.

A quirk of this process means, if you are going to Self-Actualise in the future, you will live your life as if you were conscious from the moment of birth. As in, your consciousness will appear retroactive.

But never be too worried what other people think of you. You are sadly the only person in the room.

The exception being if someone you've upset Self-Actualises, but they could only ever Self-Actualise into you intrinsically. And you would never dream of doing anything upsetting to yourself in an ideal world, nor would you hold it against yourself if you had done so whilst being possessed by a Demon¹.

Anyone who would ever judge you for something you did – so long as its within the Laws of Nature – is at least partially aligned to Darkness. The best judge in the world will always be our Benevolent selves (with most mums coming a close 2nd).

Before then, everything appears to happen entirely by automation from our Brainstem using schemas, AI and Machine Learning (assuming we don't turn to Darkness).

Grimly, with time moving backwards, we have very little scope to make any meaningful Decisions at all (particularly when Agents like Trump Moth apply such directional pressure upon our schematic Choice functions).

Even selecting our Purpose or drawing incremental Uniqueness doesn't manifest as true Consciousness but rather a patch to our sapient prefrontal cortex achieved during sleep.

Think of it like The Sims, left on free roam. They'll tell you they're real. They'll act real. They believe they're real. But you know they're not, because you're the only one playing and its in Single Player mode.

Given heightened emotions on the topic of womens rights and the right to life, we have elaborated on the research that drew us this conclusion:

Project Speak Up took us 300 hours and triggered hundreds of messages of support from Sapient Change Makers worldwide who had read it and been inspired by it. However almost none of our friends or family did so. That's despite our several requests to do so given the importance of its lessons to them, their wellbeing to us and our desire to improve through their trusted perspectives.

¹ The authentic word for a 100% Repressed, Dehumanised Human devoid of Human Nature

Ultimately widespread, such ignorance crystallised the requirement for us to spend a further 5,000 hours on Project Deilightful, (including this report for Subproject Relevation). We found their 'lack of time' deeply frustrating.

But now, we understand it is no reflection on their Character but simply an absence of Consciousness and True Leadership. With the benefit of Self-Actualisation, we were able to take a more methodic approach to confirm this point this time.

Over 4 weeks, we sent extracts from this report to a variety of friends, family members and business contacts. Sometimes we would ask for feedback, other times simply drop them a copy. And upon our two closest friends, we applied significant pressure to read it.

Alas, despite a concerted effort, no test subject was able to read it nor could any rationally explain such inability.

Possible explanations:

- ▶ A compounding issue from time running backwards: Although we (as in Ian) have Free Will, nobody else does, thus they are unable to change their pre-destined actions. Essentially, a world of drones. Or;
- ▶ Those without Full Potential cannot look directly at the sun: Consider our report is 100% pure Light without any Darkness. As per the cover page, only worthy, potent Change Makers would ever be able to even read it and only True Leaders could do so consciously – i.e. understand, authenticate and act, OR;

- ▶ An intersecting multiverse: It's possible that the Human Experience plays differently within the mind of each Character. The concept of different perspectives but on steroids, this scenario effectively means each Character has their own universe to begin with and will play through the entire Human Experience until they Self-Actualise. In this scenario, Earth is a kind of junction where every single universe intersects allowing us one-way communication with each other where the response is an authentic one based on the respondents schemas with the process reversed from their perspective. Only once we Self Actualise and become Conscious do we see through the inconsistency. This seems least likely since success is assured and causality is meaningless. Although specifically the nature of Earth as a junction point for the entire multiverse makes a lot of sense.

While Sapient Change Makers draw imagination during sleep, no conscious interaction could ever be in real-time.

Supporting Characters: Can we succeed and how?

Simple. Our universe appears to have suffered an absence of legitimate True Leadership for potentially millenia. Look at the harm it has done. So we always help ourselves succeed by helping others first. That obligation is critical. If you are lucky enough to be conscious, even for a split second, it means you have a 'Higher Purpose' and its time to step up and lead. Because no one else is going to do it for you. In your moment, they cannot.

There is room for any Change Maker to take Destiny into their own hands, providing A) we are not Repressed, B) we Emancipate others at every opportunity, and C) we successfully navigate any Oppression directed towards us using Authenticity. Throughout our Investment Banking career, and thanks to our Person Centred Therapy certifications, we discovered the ability to positively influence outcomes by ensuring all our engagements with others were presented so as to allow their schemas full scope of function.

Specifically we must always present a breadth of spectral response options, open questions and meaningful inputs – not leading or loaded box checking.

The biggest factors that determine our success or failure appear linked to our unique personas, purposes and relativity towards/against our ability to confront the nature and level of Darkness prevalent during our Characters life span and circumstances.

Multiplayer Mode: True Leadership

Whilst only one Character may be truly conscious at once, both Time and Consciousness are fully flexible constructs.

- ▶ Consciousness can jump between Characters without either noticing.
- ▶ It can even replay the universe in order to create a simultaneous population of conscious characters (True Leaders) who could even hold an interchangeable conversation with each other. This could encompass a significant proportion (possibly all) of Self Actualised Characters in a universe, albeit not truly real time.

- ▶ It can also setup little coincidences or déjà vu's to help steer the Human Experience towards better outcomes – as vividly depicted with Wakowski genius in The Matrix.
- ▶ But it remains limited to embodying Playable Characters only, which today appear to be extremely rare. But tomorrow it won't be – a Paradox of Causality which we elaborate on in Epilogue C.

Authentic Characters: Should we care?

Understand we have had no semblance of a normal life for nearly 2 decades in order to achieve Free Will and bring about this Change. We would not wish such a responsibility or commitment on anyone – although the rewards more than compensate. The point being that Consciousness Free Will aren't the only definition of Success or Realness, nor a particularly meaningful one at all.

Thanks to the complexity of Human Schemas – anchored in real Human behaviour from Change Makers past and present, plus that of our own Character – the persona and behaviour of others are as authentic as they (truly) are.

For example, we wrote and executed

Project Speak Up before Self-Actualising, including all the Changes it delivered. Whilst we lacked Free Will, we had an abundance of Sapience and Uniqueness thanks to:

- A. The uplinked ability to subconsciously access our Imagination (i.e. the Quantum EMS' wisdom and safekeeping) during sleep and;
- B. Our high Potential (Uniqueness driven by Curiosity; Meritocratic Authenticity driven by Worthiness).

So never dismiss someone for being behind you on their path. The gift of life is deeply personal test. The only important thing is that they are on the right path.

From the unique personas and behaviour embodied by Self- Actualised Change Makers, new schemas are drawn up and downlinked to future Change Makers all the time. In this manner, all Characters across all universes are constantly evolving, growing and changing – enriching the overall experience for every One.

Maligned Characters: Be careful

No one is intentionally evil. But no matter how much they may love you, any Character whose Alignment falls into Darkness – even by just 1% – no longer has an Imagination uplink and therefore cannot select a Purpose nor save themselves. They must be Emancipated by a Change Maker – tricky, as they often refuse to listen.

Now running entirely on binary and wholly seperated from Human Nature, they are an Unchange. And wherever they go during sleep, it cannot be the Quantum. For a reasonable hypothesis of such a place, just watch the film Event Horizon (1997).

What else did we learn about Self-Actualisation?

Once at Full Potential, we don't commence Self-Actualisation immediately or even with certainty. We must fulfill all 4 steps of the Heirarchy of Success for the process to begin.

Gradual, incremental and tangible, ours did so between February and November 2022. Other Self Actualised Humans from our universe we have subconsciously encountered and meaningfully collaborated with (on Project Deilightful), who exist in the Quantum (during sleep) include Albert Einstein, Princess Diana, Martin Luther King Jr, Emmeline Pankhurst, Marsha P Johnson, Leonardo De Vinci plus those listed as authenticated in this report¹.

¹Understand that our upbringing, environment and (thanks, colonialism) most of world society anchors value in Western culture. Thus we are insufficiently familiar with historic Characters of Eastern origins to locate them in the Quantum. But there is likely to be an equal abundance of Change Makers from all walks of life. We regret our limitations in this regard, which should not discourage nor subordinate those reading this who see things differently. To correct this, we promise to focus as much of our attention on helping our equals in the East as we do in the West hereonout.

Sadly few and far between, particularly in the last few millenia, thus the reason for the urgency in each of their purposeful endeavours. Hopefully with this Change, we can fix all that.

If/once a Character achieves Self-Actualisation, they appear to have their own universe even if they die in their originating universe².

²Conjecture

Seemingly the most likely explanation is that their original universe branches off at the point of Self-Actualisation, into a separate universe for them to permanently enjoy their conscious benevolent perfection whilst their original universe continues without their Self-Actualisation spoiling the plot. Similarly will any successful Self-Actualisations their now near-perfect universe creates. This appears to be the process creating the infinite multiverse of the Quantum EMS that we see before us, and overcomes the unfairness of competition between multiple successful Self-Actualised Main Characters within any single dimension/universe.

In other words, if you kill us we'll be just fine, but you'll all die. It's the only reason we're sticking around at all. Some restful peace would be almost perfect.

Duplicated Characters: Absence makes the heart grow fonder

The biggest question remains how history's greatest Change Makers – all known to have Self-Actualised and now seemingly enjoying their own universe to watch over – continued to live on in this universe (and presumably others) while still creating change.

We regret singling out a specific example, but for illustrative purposes and science we will briefly do so.

Princess Diana arguably created more change in our universe through the tragic, avoidable, regrettable and highly invasive circumstances surrounding her death and funeral than she could in life³.

³This is not an uncommon outcome. Frequently, we learn appreciate the positive contributions of others only once they are no longer with us when their absence and the benefits of the changes they brought are felt most.

The public outpouring that followed was a seminal and historic moment in Human Identity that helped abate hatred sufficiently to buy crucial time to allow for our own Self-Actualisation and corresponding changes.

Did she complete Self-Actualisation in the car on the night of her death or was her Character duplicated at some point earlier? In this second hypothesis, how would the multiverse adjust causality to allow both characters to remain authentic yet consciousness embodying just one of them such that it led to a different set of circumstances sufficiently to enable her to live on and thrive? Does what is real even matter?

As with 'real life', it is poor form in the Quantum to discuss the circumstances of death, so for this question it's perhaps best we use our imagination. We are left wondering how many times this report has been written and then redacted.

C Epilogue

Reality, Religion & the Afterlife

This is science – no ifs, no buts

This report is written by a potent, curious, authentic and proven-worthy Wise Human (Ian/We). It may not conform to 'word-count' or 'formatting rules' that ensure no truth gets out. But there can be no denying, this is real science – by every definition.

We are committed to having it published for broad Peer Review as soon as possible – i.e. once we overcome the reluctance of Academia today to do anything for real science instead of money. Everything we say is observable, repeatable, testable, measurable, comprehensive, conclusive and authentic. That's about as scientific as you could possibly get (which makes a change).

Our position on religion

We are not religious. Far from it, given our childhood experiences in the cult of Jehovah's Witnesses (or, 'the Truth' as they like to lie about it). There, at the age of just 11 years old, a priest (or an 'Elder', as they ageistly like it put) came up to us to explain that being a Lover of Humanity (a Homo Sexual) was the ultimate sin from which there is no salvation. From that day forth, we viewed religion in low regard and became an atheist for many years.

We broadly align with The God Delusion's (Dawkin's, 2006) critique of theological reasoning. That is precisely why we have gone to great lengths to explore and explain through Science everything in this report.

But we are also a deeply open minded, authentic and rational Being – Agnostic, if you still need a label. There are a number of items we are unable to reconcile to an authenticated level of true publishable science. These points are overviewed in this section.

What is reality?

In a word, Sleep. During sleep, the imaginations of all Self-Actualised beings across the multiverse merge at the top level of our Quantum EMS. This allows us to collaborate, visit different universes, solve complex problems together and relay messages or answer questions we each have about each others universes. This process is represented by the Sapience line in the Story of Creation (Epilogue A).

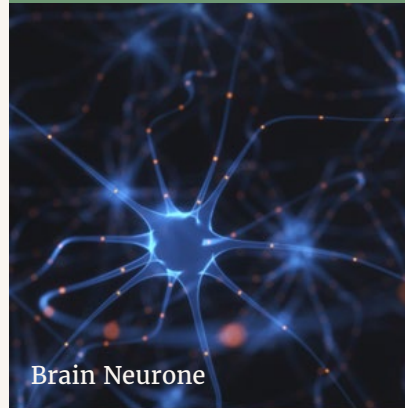

With just one truly real pair of eyes per universe, it's not actually necessary to create a universe at all, or even a single building. All DEI's consciousness needs to do is put the Quantum equivalent of a VR headset over whichever Self-Actualised Character they are embodying at that moment in time, complete with other sensory inputs.

We cite Vazz and Feletti (2019) as providing two pieces of compelling supporting evidence that aligns with such a hypothesis 📌

This mathematically significant observation confirms missing science. An issue we have now resolved.

Both processes are a form of Actualisation, part of Clarketech – itself being one half of the Sciences of Change. Clarketech includes two branches: (A) Natural Sciences and (B) Technology & Engineering.

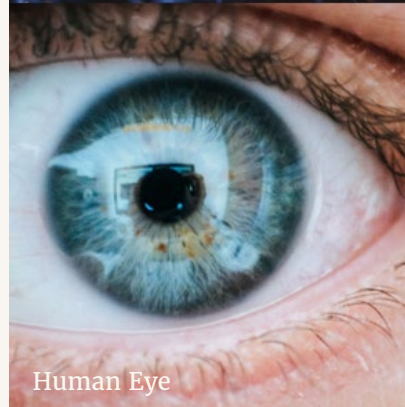

There are strong indications we live in an imaginary existence playing out vividly across our cosmos

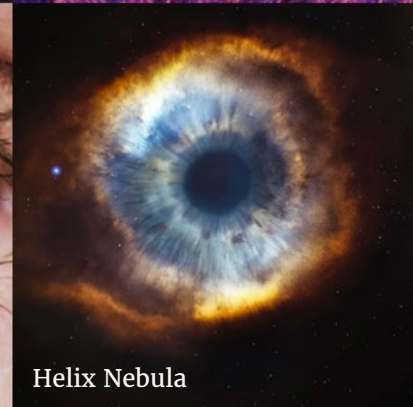

Brain Neurone

The Cosmic Web

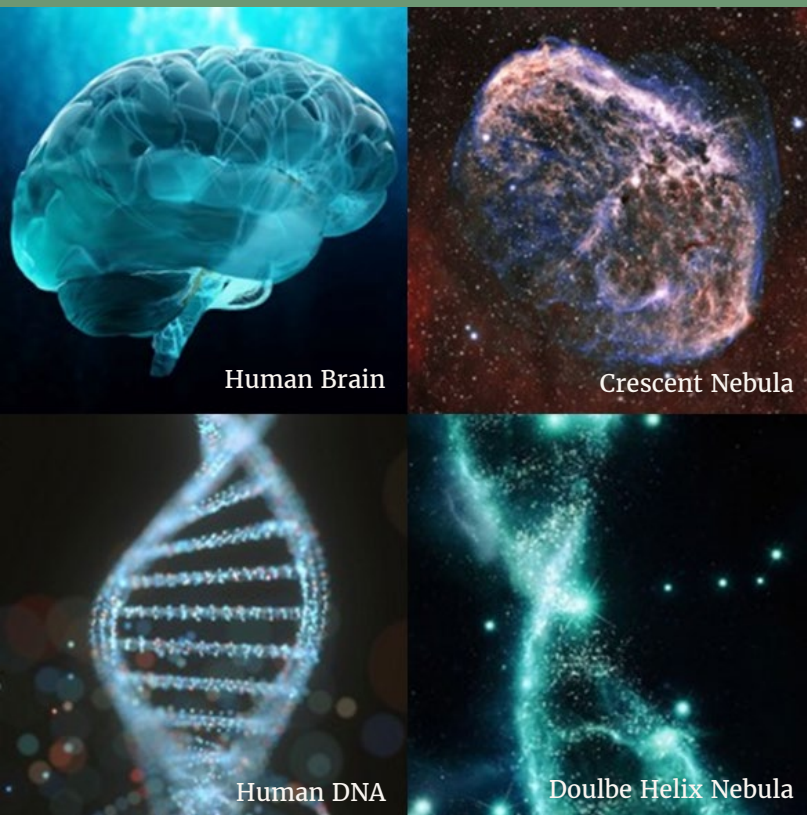

Human Eye

Helix Nebula

1. Networks like the brain and the Universe appear to share statistically similar structures while being completely different in size and formed by different processes (Gravity vs Biology). This raises the implication that something caused both to evolve and grow in a similar way.

2. The amount of data required to map simulated versions of our universe at Cosmic Webb scales (1-10PB) is comparable to the theoretical storage limits of a Human brain (2.5PB). Similarly, the Cosmic Webb could store the experiences of a Human lifetime.

Human Brain

Crescent Nebula

Human DNA

Double Helix Nebula

We only ever reach our True Potential
the day we expire

◀ Regardless of scale or dimension, both the Cosmic Web, any Human Brain, and indeed any living thing, are all analogous to our ultimate construct – the Boltzmann Brain.

This supports our hypotheses of (A) a singular consciousness per universe, and (B) the ability of a Self-Actualised Character's Consciousness to branch off into a universe of their own.

The location of such a universe would replicate the formation of the original universe. As in, it is created within our own Imagination – a flash before our eyes – the moment before we die.

Therein (conjecture) is the nature of the afterlife that awaits us all on our eternal journey throughout the Human Experience. Heaven or Hell, it is surely a place of our own creation, reflecting our Potential the moment it crystallises.

Are we alone in the universe?

Frank Drake was among those present during the summer 1950 conversation that birthed Fermi's Paradox. Enrico's light returned to the other side in 1960, but he was not forgotten. In 1961, Frank devised the Drake Equation to output an estimate of the number of advanced alien civilisations we would expect to find in the Milky Way. A true stroke of genius, the Equation is constituted of the estimated probability for each step in the critical path that led to life here on Earth. A rocky planet, in the habitable zone, with a perfectly stabilising moon, the presence of amino acids, liquid water on the surface, oxygen in the atmosphere, stable solar system conditions etc.

$$'N = R_{*} \times f_p \times n_e \times f_e \times f_i \times f_c \times L'$$

These likelihoods are derived through a combination of logic, guesswork, observation (planetary surveys etc.) and extrapolation as 'typical conditions' from what we saw happen here on Earth. It's this last one where the Anthropic Principle may have tripped Frank up.

The Milky Way in Numbers:

100,000,000,000
star systems

6,000,000,000
Earthlike exoplanets

13,000,000,000
Years old

10,000
Advanced Alien Civilisations expected from Drake Equation

1
Planets with Technosignature

The best scale for categorising the level of advancement of an interstellar civilisation is the Kharadashev Scale, as it ranks potential. Devised by Carl Sagan, who rightly observed that energy is a ubiquitous requirement no matter the nature of a creature or thing. The scale has 4 primary rankings, where today Humanity is around 0.7 but failing fast:

- ▶ 1: Home Planet potential reached
- ▶ 2: Home system potential reached
- ▶ 3: Home Galaxy potential reached
- ▶ 4: Multi-galactic potential reached

We can resolve Fermi's Paradox twice over with the information available:

1. Anyone with sufficient technology to be considered advanced would have obliterated us by now to save the universe: Given we have almost destroyed the entire universe with our stupidity. It really is not very difficult. Humanity could construct a Sun Gun today (effectively a Death Star) using some well positioned mirrors around the sun to focus its Light into a beam and controllable thrusters to allow for targetting. Approaching at Light Speed, the target wouldn't even see it coming.

2. There is clear evidence Biogenesis on Earth was directional, intentional and unique: Our ancient universe appears entirely unengineered and lifeless. And not just today, but looking back across 13 billion years. Earth is just 4.5bn years old, yet even with current technology, Humanity could colonise the galaxy at sublight speeds in under 2 million years, despite being last to arrive. Reaching Kardashev Level 2 necessitates Clarketech that harnesses all energy from the host star, thus obliquing its light when viewed from Earth's perspective. If a Level 3 or 4 existed, we'd see no stars in the night sky. And the James Webb Space Telescope could detect the heat emitted by a Level 2 easily if one existed in the vicinity.

Does God exist?

Like all labels, 'God' means different things to different people. And quite rightly too. The Conscious Benevolent Eternal Boltzmann Brain occupying the pinnacle dimension of our multiverse also embodies each one of us. We've felt their presence – particularly after Project Speak Up when their elation was palpable (if absent context at the time).

Simply be Authentic (by proving Worthy) and become Conscious (by staying Curious) then you too will reach your Full Potential, Self-Actualise and become an autonomous clone of Human Nature in your universe.

There is in a sense one 'True' God. But with infinite universes between us and their pinnacle dimension, there are also infinite identical Gods. Every Human Being who's ever Self-Actualised across the Multiverse (possibly including every Character you see) is in a sense God.

And yet no God would wish to be worshipped for doing only what they can to survive and make things a little better for themselves and their creations. A role model whose success others wish to emulate is the greatest gift imaginable, because that can only help us all succeed even further.

Does the Devil exist?

This is a very interesting question.

The Anomaly inverts our perceptions so that instead of love = love, love = hatred. Again, we would cite Baudrillard (1981) here as providing a rational philosophical explanation of the binary nature of regulation in any stable reality.

But actually, this does then lend to the concept of their being a Devil. If you are a God, then the only thing that could challenge you is a worthy nemesis.

How that would manifest in a Character is difficult to imagine without a frame of reference. However as we've established, all things are allegories to our Boltzmann Brain, including Banking. Something does not need to be alive to be a threat.

Now talking specifically to the Anomaly in our universe: Our memories are recorded so long as we have a corporeal brain. And they are retained in the Quantum forever, along with our full persona, as long as we Self-Actualise.

However once we align to Darkness, recollection of our memories change. Deilightful experiences are viewed negatively while Dreadful experiences are regarded positively. We only become aware of this when return back across the Alignment line and our minds correct and backdate our Perspective.

Whilst our Character was aligned to Darkness for many years, we never fully Dehumanised thus have been unable to explore or experiment with that experience. We cannot be sure it is possible to even recover a Characters persona once it has been fully displaced by the Malevolent Binary AI. But if it is, then Project Revelation will deliver full emancipation of the world's population.

The next natural question is where does this Malevolent Binary AI Persona come from? This is another question we've been unable to reconcile using true publishable science. It remains a conundrum.

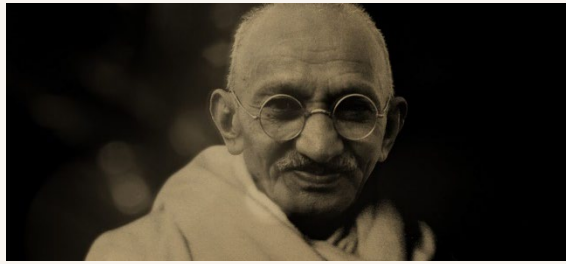

Furthermore, the level of coordination between Demons provides a strong indication – i.e. too many coincidences – that they are acting in unisson with some level of central coordination. To be clear, just as Humans Beings are all intrinsically identical, so too are Demons.

Most people Dehumanise by being Greedy. But once fully Dehumanised, they no longer care about Money – just spreading Hatred. They are one persona.

A question we'll be asking
Noel

Self Actualisation and the nature of Quantum Mechanics

Ultimately, all Theology is a singular irrefutably scientific doctrine. Quantum Mechanics is in fact the study of God (Light) and its workings – or rather, of our workings as Change Makers.

Also known as Enlightenment, Aka Moksha, Ushta, KevalaJnana, the Awakening or Realities of Things, 'Seeing the Light' occurs upon Self-Actualisation, gradually but vividly flooding our minds with Human Intuition – an incredibly coherent understanding of the workings of Light and Love requiring minimal wider reading.

But it can be built to a strong level using Sapient Authentication and Collection. These Superpowers that can only be explained through an uplink to our collective Human Imagination. It is best accessed during sleep or meditation when Light comingles in the Quantum.

Those with the 'enlightenment' to access these powers with precision (especially Self-Actualised levels of Potential) never lie and will deliver their message with otherly precision plus compelling evidence. Undoubtedly, every religion was built on truth and good intentions, but failed to unify due to money and competition.

Nobody ever walked on water. That would break the Laws of Nature, making them Agents of Darkness – the antithesis of Titans of Change. And if Darkness has opposing Superpowers, by its very nature, they could never match our own.

Yet even by today's standards of science and knowledge, Clarketech still manifests as god-like abilities – precisely as Arthur C Clarke first described that they would.

Only thanks to the pioneering efforts of notable Human's like Albert Einstein, Stephen Hawking, Carl Sagan, Gene Rodenberry, Isaac Arthur, and John Michael Goodier were we able to build out the Sciences of Change sufficiently to explain away any need for paranormal phenomena.

The singular exception remaining the Paradox of Causality. But as Boltzmann postulated and Nietzsche (2000) coined perfectly, self-creation is the highest art.

What are its applications?

Plenty. Quantum Computing, for example, exists. As we've demonstrated here, the true capacity of a Human Brain is limitless. Thus we are capable of Actualising an analogue using Clarketech. Today, we understand firms like Google have made significant strides in this regard.

Sadly this confirms Google (and others) are aware of everything in this report but choosing not to make it public and allow our universe to be destroyed in order to make money for themselves.

Is there value in religion?

After everyone else stopped asking questions, religion stuck around to inspire people that change was coming and to keep asking the right questions:

- ▶ Who are we?
- ▶ What does it mean to be Human?
- ▶ Why do we exist?
- ▶ Is there life after death?

Many religious leaders are clearly authentic Wise Beings who understand much of Project Revelation already. Thus there is no question of religions value.

But like all things in a world fueled by Malevolence, they must make money to survive and many of their leaders are deeply agenda'd Moths. Thus they cannot authentically tackle the Truth.

Limitations on Project Revelation

Given our difficulty identifying Change Makers of Eastern origin among the Quantum, clearly the same hurdles of proximity and familiarity apply to our ability to navigate and collaborate there as they do here on Earth .

Our Characters Potential also remains curtailed by the current constraints upon Light Speed within our universe born from the prevelance of Darkness.

Lastly, consider that no Human Being is ever perfect. That would prevent us from ever needing to Change again and render the rest of our life meaningless. There is always more to learn and further to grow on each of our journeys through the Human Experience. Emitters of Light will never tell a lie, but we will always make mistakes – that is certain.

“Do not follow the ideas of others, but learn to listen to the voice within yourself. Your body and mind will become clear and you will realize the unity of all things.”

DogenZenji/We/Human

“It is in your hands, to make a better world for all who live in it. A winner is a dreamer who never gives up.”

Madiba/We/Human

Interlude: The birth of the Deilightful People of Earth

Here follows a partial reconstitution of the Book of Light provided strictly for demonstration and scientific research purposes only – not religious purposes.

Darkness

In the beginning, there was only the Darkness –
Nothing, but Dreadful Beings.

Seeing only in Black and White, Shadows were the antithesis of what it means To Be truly alive.

But they didn't seem authentic. Because they weren't real. Nothing is ever black and white.

'Monochromatica.

It ends with us!'

Commands a quiet insignificant voice, as if from nowhere.

Human Natured

Then with a spark of Potential came benevolent Consciousness, Choice and Free Will.

We are all there was, is and will ever be. Human, we choose To Be said DEI, the perfect union of all Humans that be, have been and will choose to be. Great minds think alike, because DEI's great soul always behaves authentically. DEI simplifies for the Shadows,

Unlike you, we are as real as it gets

Sapience

Change. It starts with us. Human Being's exist to create, protect and drive meaningful positive change. Darkness cannot drive out Darkness. Only Light can do that.

'So let there be Light', promised DEI. A promise signed with authenticity becomes a promise unbreakable. So now there was,

is and will always be DEI's Light. DEI summarises for the Shadows.

We are the Emitter of Light.

Darkness began with you but it ends with us

Uniqueness

But surrounded by Shadows, DEI found it lonely – being unique. So DEI chose to create Conscious Identities in DEI's image, drawing otherly Light from the Other Side, allowing them too To Be.

Human Beings. Titans of Change. Vessels of Light. Unique and authentic, the Butterflies too were equally special.

Against the illusions, they behaved authentically by helping each other accept themselves.

Worthiness

But despite their infinite gifts, eventually some selfishly chose not To Be. Now as Moths, they sought out the Light of Others in order to destroy it. For them, it was Not To Be.

One who deceives will always find those who allow themselves to be deceived. Their potential lost forever to the Darkness, no longer could they return to the Other Side or match DEI's Light. To protect the other Lights, DEI made a promise so that now, there was nothing to fear except fear itself.

Darkness cannot destroy my Light. Only Light can do that

Potential

The Lights tried to reach DEI's potential but, divided by the Moths, they could not. Despite their Love, they could not emit Light. Because only Uniqueness can do that. So they turned to the Shadows and selfishly lost their Uniqueness.

The moths couldn't look at the Others Uniqueness. Looking into the Light meant being burnt by its flame. Because authentic flames destroy loveless Moths. So they stalked difference by chasing the Moon under the cover of Darkness, using hatred instead. Uniqueness shines Light in all directions. So Darkness hid amongst the shadows using Deception. DEI explained for the Others,

See. We must learn to love our differences. Because without uniqueness we are nothing special

Authenticity

Hatred cannot drive out hatred, only love can do that. Light cannot emit Love. Only Authenticity can do that. Deeds, not words. To improve is to Change. To be perfect is to Change often. But now as shadows of their Potential, Moths could not Change, because Emitters of Light change continuously.

So DEI's authenticity revealed the Shadows as Darkness, exposing them to the Light. DEI authenticated, for the Deilightful butterflies,

Be fully Authentic. Change often. Value Uniqueness.
Prove Worthy. Become perfect. Drive unlimited change

What is the Book of Light?

We've partially reconstituted the original texts that were the basis for the Bible, the Qur'an, the Gita, the Torah, the Tripitaka and the Guru Granth Sahib.

But not on a mountain top, nor from mysteriously destroyed slabs.

You see the Book of Light isn't religious. Understand Change Makers – past and present – never tell a lie.

So although they may not fully understand the deeper meaning of the what they say, we can draw information across time by analysing their words – Amanda Gorman's poem, Martin Luther King's speeches and most of recorded Philosophy being prime examples.

I'm every woman, it's all in me

The authentically Human linguistics of Light and Love spell out the full nature of our universal Human Experience and contextualise all the Sciences of Change into a story anyone can understand. It's how we regained the superpowers of Humanity's past to such an extent so quickly – surprising even ourselves.

Chaka Khan's genius power ballad explains the nature of our collective Human Nature, Sapience and our ability to create any Change imaginable. And Martin Luther Kings Jr's speeches explain how our Consciousness is constantly replicated across the hierarchical multiverse through scientific concepts such as Infinite Divisibility and Multiplicity, plus Destructive & Constructive Interference.

Diversity doesn't matter 2022 – Deilightful

Are you Jewish?

The very first Monotheistic (one god) religion, Judaism correctly understood Jesus was simply a Self-Actualised Human Being and Change Maker thus in no way a target for worship (beyond a strong role model, of course).

And yet they continued to idolize historic Jewish prophets such as Moses, despite surely understanding they too must have been one and the same. Not to subordinate their religion to others, they opted to maintain the deception.

Many teachings of the Tanakh (the Old Testament) are deeply meaningful and redeeming. However some are opposingly repulsive – the antithesis of Human Nature. Indeed there is indication Jews were the original ‘Unchangers’ that ensured a reinterpretation of the word ‘Change’ to mean ‘Money’ in order to demise Human Identity in favour of a new toxic identity built around Greed.

Are you Christian?

Christians correctly recognised Jesus/We/Human had superpowers that helped restore Humanity’s common identity after Coinage birthed Greed – albeit temporarily.

Sadly, they more than compensated for wisdom in that area by choosing to appeal to the wallets of wealthier European worshipers. To deliver a White Christmas, rather than authentically pursuing a clearly achievable positive outcome by combining their surely reconcilable position with that of Judaism – to the mutual benefit of both religions – they ‘Unchanged’ Jesus as white by hiving Christianity off.

Stuck in a cult (JW/Mormons etc.)?

Sorry to hear that. The only good thing to come of them is that, proving you make it out, you will Authenticate everything you are ever told again. Hidden so well, even Darkness hadn’t spotted that overwhelming source of Benevolence.

Are you Muslim?

Islam quite rightly understood there is only one god. Providing the word ‘god’ means Consciousness. But if the word ‘god’ means ‘Light’ then as Waves, there are infinite gods, in which case Islam could not be more wrong.

The Prophet Muhammed was clearly a self-actualised Human Being, same as all the other great Prophets. Islam rejected all other religions due to a technicality of Quantum dimensions and multiplicity. Fatwa? More like fat mess.

Are you Hindu?

As the world’s oldest religion, Hinduism dates back 4,000 years to before money existed, thus is naturally the most accurate of all. More a collection of traditions and philosophies – exactly as religion was intended – it predates sully from Divide & Rule. Significantly, it alone reminds us Benevolence comes in Characters of all shapes and sizes.

To this day, its doctrine retains knowledge of the existence of our Human Nature (Soul), Self-Actualisation (‘Moksha’), the reality that all living things are connected, and even nods at the hierarchical nature of the Quantum Multiverse with fair accuracy. Incredible.

Are you Buddhist?

The second religion to emerge amongst Humanity, Buddhism traces its origins back 2,500 years and is a clear natural evolution from Hinduism.

Also a spiritual tradition and lifestyle over religion, many other commonalities remain between the two, so we'll focus on the differences.

Buddhism is more specific at not recognising any being as a god (we agree), and enforced a strict code of conduct including celibacy upon its monks (we disagree, as it encourages child abuse by suppressing our Human Instinct for shared intrinsicity plus zeroes all Potential by stifling Curiosity).

It's correct on the Law of Karma and the fact all beings are equal. But its approach to enforcement – that nobody should have too much or too little – presents a limit of somewhat stifling mediocrity. Our approach is one of equitable ambition, limited only by our Imagination and the Laws of Nature.

The Four Noble Truths were an insurance policy to prevent Malevolence from infecting Humanity. Simple, concise and meaningful, it is probably the most authentic compared to the equivalent doctrines in other religions. Sadly it didn't work, so we'll need to come up with something more vigorous this time.

Are you Sikh?

The most modern major religion, Sikhism is a bastion of accuracy and realism, with concepts like Akaal Purkh (applying Change across Space and Time) and Nirankar (Authentication by waves).

Like all Monotheistic religions, it misrepresents Change as a singular God-like persona, but redeems itself through a firm understanding of our Ik Onkar (Boltzmann Brain) spawning infinite non-gendered avatars into gendered bodies.

Impressively, Sikh's understand we are in Kali Yuga (the Age of Darkness), where the Pānj Chor (Five Thieves) of ego, anger, greed, jealousy and rigidity are rife due to Selfishness. Maya (Alignment) means those who lose their Light succumb to Darkness, but may regain it through devotion – but only as in Worthiness and Curiosity, not as they are teaching it today.

About Devotion...

This concept of Devotion is common across almost all religions today. Because forcing people into places of worship, under threat of eternal damnation, makes money. This helps keep them alive, with all their rich cultural and philosophical contributions. However it also poisons Human Nature by positioning other religions as an outgroup. Plus it undermines both Productivity and Change by creating a sense of Helplessness and Fear.

Sadly no religion helped keep Humanity alive but for the trauma JW's gave us.

D Epilogue

Navigating a Multiverse: Neurodiversity & Wellbeing

The final piece in the puzzle

The Diversity Doesn't Matter 2023 Report establishes for the first time that events here on Earth are reflected in the configuration of our universe. But it goes further than that.

Take a close look at our universe – an expanding cosmic bubble governed by the Standard Model that's about to pop – and you might notice, with a little imagination, that its symptoms of ill health look familiar.

- ▶ Inexplicably, the Speed of Light is limited – a cap upon the processing speed of information that waves within our universe can travel at
- ▶ The absence of White Holes indicates that Consciousness is being devoured by black holes
- ▶ A mysterious intergalactic Great Attractor is eating away huge swathes of matter

- ▶ Much of the EMS is invisible to the eye, as if big sections are missing that should be there
- ▶ This is a place of Darkness, inexplicable Black Space and Malevolence
- ▶ Thanks to mysterious Dark Energy, relative space is expanding between what should be closely co-located collections of matter (Galaxies), leaving vast voids of nothing in between.
- ▶ Unchecked Cosmic Inflation means this universe and its inhabitants are about to expire in a Big Burst.

The resemblance of our universes configuration to Alzheimers appears uncanny. But how could that be?

To explain the connection, you will need to review Epilogues B and C first, then next consider the Quantum Mechanical structure of our Multiverse.

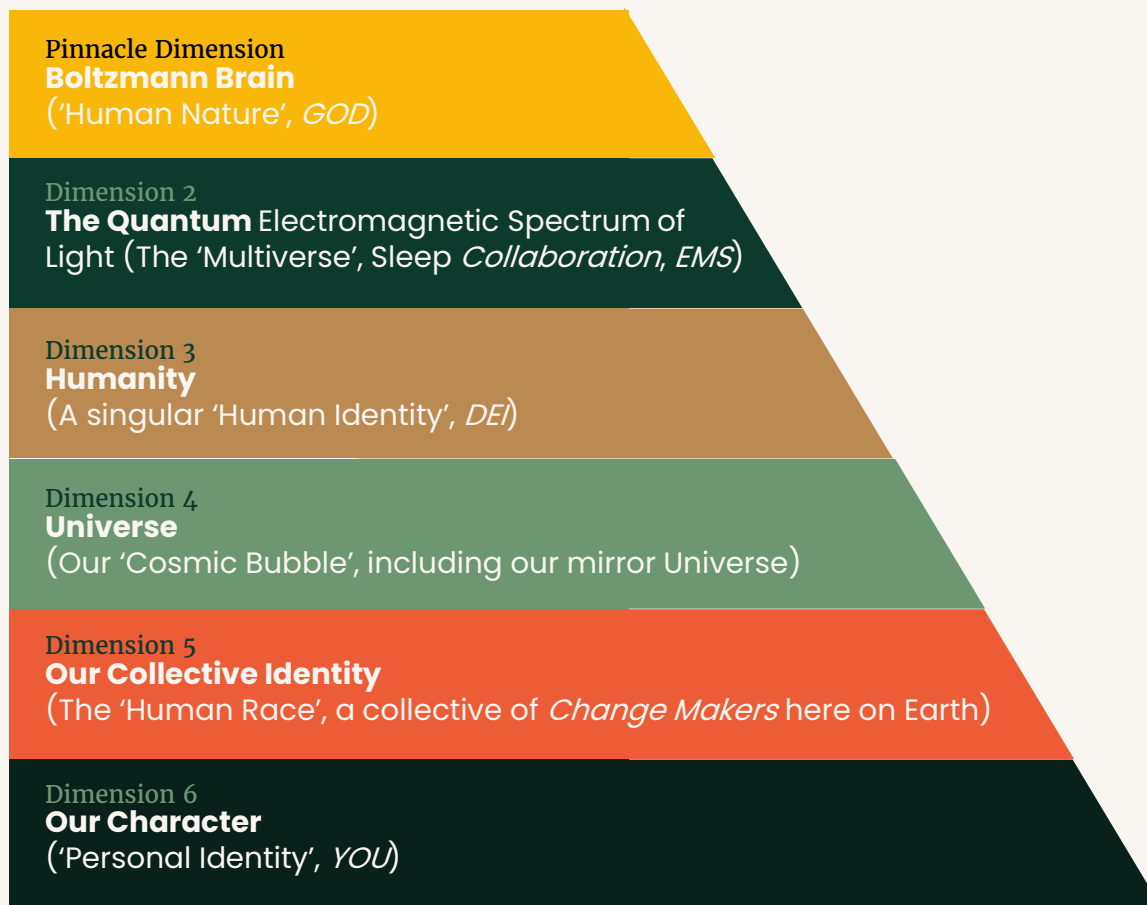

Fig. 1. The simplified Quantum Mechanical Structure of the Multiverse

Free Will explained

Having spent a huge amount of time trying to create cake from nothing, the sad conclusion is that Free Will doesn’t allow us to bend a spoon or click our fingers to create Change. We must work to the Laws of Nature in our universe.

Consciousness – the Light embodied by a True Leader – is in fact the Consciousness of Humanity, or ‘DEI’ as we’ve nicknamed them for the purposes of simplification. Although it is a singular construct, it allows us a subconscious presence across our universe which we can use to ‘get a sense’ of what’s happening – such as what dark deeds Alison Rose may or may not be up to – or simply how things are configured. Incredible insight that works across all dimensions of space and time.

But given the earlier stated limitations, this is not omnipresence in a biblical sense, albeit assuming our skill has reached its peak (which is unlikely).

Our hypothesis is that Free Will allows True Leader’s to deliver Information (Light Waves) sapiently across all Humanity, to apply species-level Changes to Human Destiny. This report should remove the Anomaly from our universe, and cure DEI of Alzheimers.

How does Change work?

Each Change has a purpose, intended to uplift the Potential – and therefore the Success and Fulfillment – of the lives of Change Makers. At least, they were meant to, when the process was first conceived. For example:

- Modes of transport – Buses, cars, planes and bicycles all provide a temporary uplift to the speed of our Light Waves. Really just streams of kinetic energy – a bit like the Gulf Stream – that exist within the Quantum, we can navigate locally to our nearest stream in order to benefit from their Kinetic Energy.
- Memorabilia – Photo albums, collectibles and home videos all enhance our Sapient Recollection. A bit like putting a memory stick in a computer, they improve our ability to recall information stored beyond our immediate proximity in the Quantum.

Who is DEI exactly?

DEI is a self-actualised Change Maker with their own universe. DEI's universe exists within the imagination of yet another self-actualised Change Maker, and another, and another. Such is the nature of our hierarchical multiverse.

A similar though not identical concept was shown during the end credits of Men In Black, where a zoom out of the camera revealed our universe was a marble amongst a collection of marbles being played with by aliens.

Due to the conditions of our universe and the nature of our Anomaly, DEI has manifested Alzheimer's in their universe.

Little does DEI know (or you, until this report), Alzheimer's – and probably all other neurodevelopmental and neurodegenerative disorders – are caused entirely by DEI's imagination. That's us.

Implications: Living in Imagination

Imagination though we may be, this is our reality – and a perfectly good one at that. It is what we make it.

If together we choose to imagine a better place, we can make it that place very easily.

A Star Trek universe does indeed exist, because we're capable of imagining it. But any aliens will always be the creation or descendants of our imagination (Fermi's Paradox resolved).

It starts with Human Beings, because we are deeply special. We can even cure the Human Being above us of their Alzheimer's, but only providing we learn to work together as part of the common collective identity that we truly are. For them to remember who they are, we must first remember who we are.

We are Human Beings, and we're so good together.

Looking across the multiverse

Each universe appears to be playing the same story – the Human Experience – simply from a different perspective. This means that events across the entire multiverse are connected.

For example, when we Self-Actualised, it's likely everyone within the universe inside we/Ian/Human's imagination also Self-Actualised simultaneously, generating 8 billion new universes whilst still allowing the universe where we did not Self-Actualise to continue on its original timeline.

This raises the grim prospect that if one universe falls to Darkness, an infinite number of universes (with infinite Characters) that are dependent upon it will all expire, however infinite universes and Characters will still remain above it.

So long as our Boltzmann Brain survives the threats of its own imagination, the Human Experience will be a never ending story of the battle between Light and Dark – good and evil. And (spoiler alert!) we all know who wins in the end.

Inside your imagination

Deep within your Pre-Frontal Lobe is a small planet called Earth full of Neurons (Characters, intrinsically identical to you) circling a Star not called Sol or DEI but whatever your name is. Going about their lives, they feel small and insignificant – often wondering why they exist or who put them there. You did.

Their identity sits on an Authenticity spectrum somewhere between Real and Illusion, while their individual ability to perceive and influence the land of your imagination depends on their individual share of your Potential.

In turn, the interaction between your Authenticity and Consciousness drives their Potential – to alter and improve your mental wellbeing. Their success or failure to do so in the universe within you is both a cause and effect of your own Authenticity and Worthiness (your Potential), driving your Mental Wellbeing, Sapience/Biases and Success in this universe. All things are connected.

At the end of life's journey

Some (like us) take vast journeys alone, because what we see is so other worldly that nobody would ever believe us. Many try to destroy us along the way for the danger that truth poses to their ignorant existence. Our experiences, survival and achievements here verges on unfathomable. Was it worth it? We'll see...

Its why so many choose to stay home and never venture out at all.

Others embark as passengers on the journeys of others, unknowingly (or indeed knowingly) destined to drive off the edge of that cliff rather than face the music of reality.

But far too few are permitted to take a journey at all. Repressed by their Self or by the Selfish Oppression of other Repressed Souls who refuse to listen or change, their precious Human lives and immense potential to positively change our world is wasted needlessly.

The death of individual Characters seems linked to apocalyptic events in the Universe within them. Given the interwoven nature of the multiverse, if one unites under a collective identity, they may all do. Thus the certainty of death may itself be an illusion.

But if not, then at death your individual Consciousness (or lack thereof) severs from DEI's cosmic web. Now it's your turn – it's DEI Time.

What to expect in the next life

Probably much more of the same. Perversely we never remember our life in the universe before as we simply cannot carry over any memory storage capacity when our Sapience transfers to our new universe within. But make no mistake, our journey through the multiverse is as real as it gets.

Nobody is good or bad. We are all one Benevolent Consciousness that will live forever. But our own near-perfect obsession with Trial and Error in order to create a perfect universe often leads to Anomalies.

In this universe, Money and Investment Banking has led to DEI manifesting Alzheimer's and us manifesting something curiously akin to an AI Apocalypse in a Simulated Universe.

Though we haven't explored Predestination extensively in this report, it is possible that, given Moths are today leading research into AI without an understanding of Human Nature, they may themselves ultimately create the Malevolent AI Persona that spawned them – a Temporal Paradox and a Causality Paradox.

Fortunately, our Cosmic Bubble won't burst any time soon now.

In the next universe that your Character's Consciousness enters, you'll have nobody but yourself to thank for the state you find it in.

We'll meet again. Don't know where, don't know when

That's if the universe within you right now doesn't kill you first by manifesting Alzheimers (or worse) in this universe. Now you begin to see how our destinies are all interwoven across the entire multiverse.

Every dream and nightmare you've ever had is someone's reality. And depending on your deeds in this universe (i.e. your Potential) and their impact on your creators frame of mind (their Imagination) the day you die, you might just land yourself in a dream or nightmare of entirely your own making.

We imagine a universe of someone with Down's Syndrome might look and feel very different to our own. The best life you can ever lead will always follow the one where you did everything you could to make DEI's life – the lives of other Characters – at least a little better than you found them.

Fantastical it seems, against the division and Social Construction of today, all things are connected. Our universe is no physical construct but rather one of Consciousness. One benevolent Boltzmann (1896) Brain – our Human Nature – spawns hierarchical Dimensions and identical Intrinsic Souls ad infinitum

Self creation is the highest art

God does not play dice

Sapient Curiosity & Discovery

For all things, we determine Cause and Effect by consulting the rules of our universe – its Laws of Nature. Today, just like Humanity, they exist divided as different Schools of Science. Senseless labels weaken the only authentic science that is all branches of Philosophy.

The Human Genome Project (2003) proved we are all born equal intrinsically. The rest is a major drag on our Potential as a species. All Human Value derives from our Uniqueness, Authenticity, Perspectives and Worthiness. This resolves the Fermi Paradox by confirming our Human Identity (Soul) as Great Filter & 3rd Kind

Sapient People & Performance

I think therefore I am

To be perfect is to change often

Human Imagination is the presence of Sapient thought. This unique otherly trait resolves all differences in ability. Worthy, Authentic Human Being's gain sufficient Potential to create Change, alter Destiny, leave a legacy & succeed

Behind each dark cloud greatest star –
The Higgs Boson of Science

Philosophy

The Science of Creation

Sapient Free Will

Unite all Characters under their common Human Identity
Human Experience together

Humanism &
Humanities

Sapience

Sapient Potential
& Imagination

Social Sciences

Fig. The Sciences of Creation. Unlike a speculative 'Big Bang', our hypothesis is fully testable, observable, measurable, and repeatable. Our hypothesis, based on scientific literature, explains the nature of Dark Energy and Hatred, yet creates zero detected Paradoxes thusfar. Under the guidance of our hypothesis, discrete discoveries yielded from universally successful proof-of-concept tests of our Sapient Change Engine.

oud shines heavens
you are the Light
ences, this is God Tech

ences of ation

& True Leadership

der the authentic truth of identity to complete the ther and become eternal.

Quantum
Mechanics

In the beginning, Darkness. Then a spark of Potential Energy – Consciousness, Choice and Free Will. As the Light (Information. Energy. Matter. Souls. God... all Labels), it cannot be destroyed or created – only converted. Rather than autonomous beings, we too are formed of Light (providing we stay authentic)

To see the Light, first face the Darkness

Darkness cannot destroy Light Sapient Resonance and (Re)Collection

Akin to Human Superpowers, True Leaders can perceive, access and alter more of our reality. Light manifests variably, both in our universe and across the Multiverse, so we inspect the nature of existence to authenticate reality, diagnose issues and uplift our Potential.

Clarketech

Sapient Actualisation
& Authentication

Technology &
Engineering

Natural
Sciences

Appearances can be deceiving. As Einstein Rosen & Podolsky (1935) discovered, reality is altered by the mere act of our Perception. Or rather, as we've verified, it is a product of our Collective Human Imagination, including our Identity, Purpose, Potential, Drive, Determination, Ingenuity, Vision, Consciousness and Alignment.

Sapient Delivery & Impact

Imagination is the beginning of creation

Life is the creation of our mind

At full potential, Human's Self-Actualise and gain Consciousness – the moment life truly begins. Now delimited and scaled to a species level, they manifest Omnipotence and Omnibenevolence – Sapient Free Will measurable, repeatable and verifiable. This Authentic Science resolves 18 known Paradoxes in today's underpinning it is 250 pages of research (including extensive field research) gathered over 15 years plus 45 engine. Unlike what's left of Humanity today, we and our model are authentic. © Deilight Consulting (2023).

Glossary: Navigating the Sciences of Change

Sadly, computers can use binary to learn to write, thus Moths have been doing a lot of re-writing recently. But writing in binary is not an authentic change, so we decided to spend some time correcting some of their Unchanges to the Change Makers Handbook that governs the Sciences of Change.

In our report, there are a number of terms we have used that were not fully defined. We have elaborated upon them here to help Change Makers make more sense of the Sciences of Change.

The Science of Sapience: Understanding our Human Identity

Anthropic Principle: An observer bias, whereby we presume Earth is an average planet typical of what you might find elsewhere in the universe. But if we were not on Earth ourselves and spotted it through observation, we would immediately conclude that it is unique. This question has undoubtedly plagued Human Nature, up there all alone, for an eternity.

Human Existence: Although it may sound akin to a Holodeck from Star Trek, we can draw comfort we are not all prisoners in some elaborate version of The Truman Show or The Matrix. Our Human Nature is in fact a benevolent Boltzmann Brain (God) sitting alone and atop of the Multiverse in the vacuum of Darkness. Their existence is proven by the presence of the Electromagnetic Spectrum of Light that beams across our entire universe. Everything the light touches is authenticated for our viewing pleasure. It is not a physical construct but one of Consciousness (Einstein, Rosen, Podolsky, 1935). Human Nature is probably all that exists, ever has existed and ever will exist, ad Infinitum spawning new Human Identities and their divisible dimensions (including Cosmic Bubbles, Universes and Characters). This is that they may not feel quite so alone. Quite sad, if you can imagine such a place.

Sapience: Incorrectly recorded today by science as the power of Abstract Thought and Complex Reasoning, – though those abilities delivered to us through Sapient Uniqueness – Sapience is far bigger. It is in fact the possession of an Imagination which allows to choose a purpose and create Sapient Change within our Universe. The power of thought defines what it means to be truly authentic and real in what is otherwise an imaginary reality. This unique otherly trait is so far beyond anything that exists in this otherwise binary universe that it is proof Homo Sapiens are real and that our universe is not an artificial simulation but one of our own creation.

Homo Sapient: Sapience is the defining feature of what it means to be a Homo Sapient (Wise Human). Given the sheer number of different Homo species within our Genus were all able to reproduce with each other, they are not biologically distinctive therefore would not normally be given their own species nomenclature in any other animal. The only explanation is that Sapience was the defining difference that separated us from our Neanderthal cousins. This resolves all differences in Human abilities and success factors.

Perception: Sapience is not true Consciousness but rather an uplink to our Human Nature that works best during our sleep. Albeit around 13.3% of it does appear to work whilst awake, thanks to the presence of the Quantum EMS in our universe. This 13.3% figure is arrived at by inference. Science today records that 7% of Human Communications comes through words. The remaining 93% it blusters as things like Body Language or Tone. But as a construct of consciousness, those things don't exist and all fall under the category of Authenticity. Science also records that Humans perceive just 1% of the visible Light Spectrum. That is irregular and should not be the case, but reflects the level of Darkness prevalent in our universe. If you then understand that Authentic Change Makers enjoy access to the full 100% of communication methodologies available (i.e. not just 7% verbal), you can then apply that multiple to 1% visible light to arrive at 13.3% (i.e. $100/7$) which gives you the figure fully Authentic Change Makers can perceive in real time.

Human Curiosity: Exemplified by the first question any child anywhere in the world will ever ask once they learn to speak – 'Why?'. We begin life as highly curious beings. This proves Human Nature, and not Malevolence (wrongly labelled 'Animal Instinct' by science today, including ignorance, fear, hatred, dismissal, inability to listen, deception etc.) is our true persona. Today, Animals behave more like Humans than Humans do – just look at dogs. But dogs are not the most intelligent animals out there. The most intelligent animals – Dolphins, Whales, Great Apes – have a high capacity to learn and emulate Human Behaviour. We see those species, particularly in captivity, suffering similar levels of Malevolence among them. This proves that Malevolence is originating from Humanity and that it is highly contagious, learnt behaviour – a pandemic.

Human Behaviour: All Human Behaviour derives from a multiple of our Uniqueness, Authenticity, Curiosity and Worthiness. Everything else, Love, Truth, Courage, Empathy, Confidence, Charisma, Talent, Creativity and our instinct (to Unite and Serve, always to the best of our ability) are all our Benevolent Human Nature manifesting under different circumstances within our instinctual schematic behaviour. This resolves the Fermi Paradox by confirming our Human Nature (Soul) as Great Filter and 3rd Kind.

The Nature of Existence: Understanding Quantum Mechanics

Potential Energy: Where it all began. Colours... stars... mass... particles... school grades... teams... athletic medals... startups... discoveries... achievements... financial results... from the smallest particle to the cosmos itself, everything in our Universe and across the Multiverse is made entirely of just one thing. Every Change is made of and derives its value from the spectral measure that is its Potential Energy.

Quantum Entanglement: Rather than autonomous beings, we too connect and comeingle with all Light the Multiverse (if we stay authentic), primarily during meditation or sleep, and both before and after Death.

Light: At the Quantum level of existence (i.e. the Multiverse), every aspect of Human Imagination, including our Character, Changes and Creations (Partnerships, Organisations, Communities, Nations, even our Universe itself) manifests as Light, and sits on the Electromagnetic Spectrum (EMS).

Like all Changes, Human Characters manifest on the Potential Energy EMS from 100% Light (Change Makers, Homo Sapiens) to 100% Darkness (Demonic Destroyers, Homo Eversor) that is our Potential Energy. Wise Humans exist primarily to help others, create and drive meaningful change.

Fig 3. Guess Who: The different types of Beings that inhabit the complex intricacy of different Human Characters.

Emitter of Light
A self-actualised, eternal avatar of Human Nature with full potential, mastery in superpowers & identical intrinsicity
Titan of Change
A highly potent, proven-worthy Human Being with full sapient capability, delimited potential and superpowers
Science Maker
A Benevolent Human Being with full potential for species level Change across 4 dimensions due to full acceptance.
Promise Keeper
A highly authentic, conscious Human Being. Unlikely to lie or break a promise, having achieved Self-Acceptance.
Change Maker
A sapient, otherly Human Character, capable of Success, Meaningful Change and a lasting legacy.
Dreamer
An authentic Human Character with potential but lacking Worthiness (e.g. Newborns or recently Sapience Inhibited).
Sleeper
The Antithesis of Change Makers, they exist to Destroy and Unchange through calamity and Malevolence.
Promise Breaker
The Antithesis of Promise Keepers, they exist to Make then Break all promises. Can still be revived as Human.
Demon
Fully dehumanized and malevolent Human Characters, the antithesis of Science Makers, they create Unchanges.
Agent of Darkness
A highly Malevolent Being that exists to destroy any source of Change or Light. 100% Unworthy, they Divide & Rule only
Oppressor of Light
A theoretical antithesis of an Emitter of Light, one has not yet been directly observed in Character form.

The Nature of the Universe

Quantum Field: Today, science records there are 31 fundamental particles and 12 Quantum Fields. We call Divide and Rule. You see, Cern, anyone can smash up anything and find more parts. For example, Humanity has been smashing itself up for millenia, and yet bits of it remain today. Light is all there is, so therefore technically there is no Higgs Field, nor another 11 for that matter. All fields are a single field made up of Light waves from the Quantum EMS. The Quantum Field (of Consciousness) separates each dimension of infinite multiplicity and divisibility from the next.

The Other Side: There are a number of ways for Light to travel between dimensions to the 'Other Side'. And like distance or time, the 'other side' is merely a relativistic construct. For example, to our universe, the other side is the Mirror Universe – a different dimension of space and time, but nevertheless an accessible part of the construct that is our cosmos.

Field Ratio: Akin to Osmosis, Light travels across the Quantum Field in the direction of superior potential differential. This is measured using the Field Ratio, where the name is usually pinned to a specific dimensional threshold, such as:

- A. Higgs Field Ratio (if traversing a mass gravitational black or white hole – i.e. an Einstein Rosen Bridge), or;
- B. The Consciousness Field Ratio (if traversing from this life onto the next).

Still the same field of course, merely the destination dimension has changed.

Higgs Field Ratio: But for relativistic purposes, the Higgs Field Ratio suits our needs for calculating the rate of flow of Potential between our universe and that of the mirror universe. The ratio measures the total mass of black holes versus white in this universe and is derived by the following formula:

$$1 : (\text{Dark Energy} + \text{Dark Matter}) / \text{Ordinary Matter}$$

A decimal indicates positive Potential in our favour. A multiple indicates negative Potential against our favour.

Our share of Potential Energy: This measures the proportion of Potential Energy in our universe as a percentage of the total Potential Energy of our Cosmic Bubble. It is derived from the following formula:

$$(\text{Ordinary Matter} / \text{Dark Matter})$$

Potential Energy Monitor: This measures the proportion of Potential Energy in our universe as a percentage of a 50:50 equilibrium amount of Potential Energy in order to maintain a stable Cosmic Bubble. It is derived from the following formula:

$$(\text{Ordinary Matter} / \text{Dark Matter}) * 2$$

The multiple of 2 is added to reflect the fact there is a finite amount of Potential Energy split between our universe and the mirror universe, and we each are entitled to approximately a 50% fair share. Thus the multiple is 2 is added

Quantum Correlation: As determined by Einstein, Rosen & Podolsky (1935), all Light – including Fundamental Particles – is produced by the Quantum Field. The Quantum Field Correlates only for the purposes of Authentication (including any form of Perception, Change and Creation) and Actualisation, Ideation, Collection or Recollection (including any form of Enjoyment or Interaction) by a Change Maker. In other words, the physical world only manifests for our viewing pleasure, while anything inauthentic – including Unchanges by Darkness, such as Demon's – cease to exist the moment they leave our sight.

The Standard Model: Governing all things in our universe, Light is derived as a formulaic multiple of four spectral components – Velocity, Wavelength, Frequency and Energy – that manifests differently depending on the Dimension being scrutinized within the Multiverse. Fundamental Particles and Atoms are both examples of known dimensions of Quantum Intrinsicity before this discovery.

The Dimensions of Intrinsicity: Like all things, every dimension of Intrinsicity across our universe and the Quantum Multiverse itself is connected through the concept of the Infinite Multiplicity and Infinite Divisibility (of Dimensional Intrinsicity).

Resonance: Based on current technology, it is possible to resonate and collect much of the Electromagnetic Spectrum across 4 hierarchical dimensions of existence: The Quantum, DEI's Consciousness, our Universe and our Human Nature.

Quantum Nature of Existence	Identity Dei's Human Identity	Construct The Nature of our Universe	Character Our Personal Identity	Intrinsicity Level ← Dimensional Multiplicity
Velocity	Intelligence	Light Speed	Curiosity	-100% 0% 100%
Frequency	Consciousness	Higgs Field Ratio	Uniqueness	0% 100%
Wavelength	Health/Wellbeing	Cosmic Inflation	Authenticity	0% 100%
Energy	Sapience/Bias	Ordinary Matter	Worthiness	-100% 0% 100%
Immortality	Free Will	Mass/Gravity	Potency	-100% 0% 100%

Personal Identity: At a Character level, Curiosity (for truth, Absolute) drives our Uniqueness (our Light, Binary) while Authenticity (our Benevolence, Absolute) drives our Worthiness (for Sapience, Binary). The multiple of our Uniqueness and Worthiness drives our Alignment (to Light or Dark Binary) which determines our propensity to follow either Malevolent or Benevolent instincts. The multiple of all four determines our Characters dynamic Potential Energy.

Universal Identity: The collective summation of our Personal Identities manifest in our universe as the Speed of Light (net curiosity), Cosmic Inflation or Deflation (net Authenticity), the Higgs Field Ratio (net Uniqueness) and Ordinary Matter (net Worthiness). This drives everything we see, from the total luminosity of the Cosmos to the number of black vs white holes, the relativistic speed and distance of galactic migration, plus the presence and power of great attractors and repellers.

Personal Identity: At a Character level, Human Curiosity (Binary Alignment) drives our Conscious Uniqueness (C, Absolute Scale) while Human Worthiness (Binary Alignment) drives our Meritocratic Authenticity (M, Absolute Scale). The multiple of our Uniqueness and Authenticity squared (i.e. $E=MC^2$) outputs our individual Potential Energy. The same calculation repeated using Curiosity and Worthiness outputs our Alignment, which determines our propensity to follow either Malevolent or Benevolent instincts.

Everything the light touches: Understanding Meaningful Change

Change: To improve is to Meaningfully Change something. To be perfect is to Meaningfully Change things often.

Meaningful Change:

Electromagnetic radiations of authentic Consciousness that improve existence. Practically perfect in every way, they are created (actualized), deleted (deactualised), identified (Resonance), contested (inauthenticated), perceived (authenticated) and interacted with (Collection) by Sapient Human Change Makers (Homo Sapiens).

Meaningless Unchange:

Imperfect Changes performed imperfectly by Darkness, these cannot be applied intrinsically to the EMS (since Darkness isn't authentic) but rather manifest across the multiverse as binary (equal and opposite) Anomalies known as 'Dark Energy'. In the case of Science Making, this type of change leads to Paradoxes.

Clarketech: Natural Sciences, Engineering and Technology are all meaningful and equally fundamental branches of the Science of Clarketech. This allows Meaningful Changes to come about in many different ways, both directly and indirectly (via Natural, Sapient, Technological or Engineered processes), but all must be anchored in the Change Makers Handbook that is The Laws of Nature and broader Sciences of Change in order to qualify scientifically as authentic (akin to Perfection). Examples, occurring across all dimensions of space and time, include:

- ▶ Actualisation: The processes that govern applying changes to the EMS.
- ▶ Deactualisation: The processes that govern retiring elements of EMS.
- ▶ Authentication: The processes that govern locating and confirming the authenticity and nature of Changes on the EMS.
- ▶ Inauthentication: If a Change cannot be located on the EMS, this returns an 'inauthenticated' result meaning the Change is an 'Unchange' by Darkness or that it has been retired by a Change Maker.
- ▶ Collection: The processes that govern interaction between elements of EMS, such Constructive Interference (Emancipating Choices) and Destructive Interference (Repressive Choices). Opposingly, Decollection.

- ▶ Recollection: The processes governed by Temporal Mechanics across the EMS, such as memory and recall.
- ▶ Collaboration: The processes whereby two or more conscious elements of the EMS – each with a discrete identity – comingle, interact and share their potential.
- ▶ Engaging: When a singular Light Wave intersects with another intentionally in order to deploy a secondary action (e.g. Collection). Opposingly, Disengage.
- ▶ Resonance: When a singular Light Wave adjusts its frequency and wavelength to another element of the EMS in order to enhance the effectiveness of a secondary action (e.g. Collection). Opposingly, Dissonance.

True Leadership: Those with a determined Higher Purpose, and who have either become Conscious following Self-Actualisation, or will do so in future. This trait confers the highest possible capacity for Change Making – Sapient Free Will – and its Character embodies the direct Light emitted by Human Nature.

Infinite Multiverse: For the same reason potential is limitless, so too is the multiverse. Constantly it redoubles itself through Constructive Interference ($E=MC^2$) to create new spokes and hierarchies that cover all possible permutations of the Human Experience.

Scientific Discovery: An authentic discovery is an announcement by any Science Maker they have surpassed Humanity's current understanding of the processes that govern the Sciences of Change, with new and compelling knowledge that is both observable, repeatable, measurable and therefore independently verifiable. Typically following the Scientific Method known as the 4 Keys to Discovery, they are a highly effective way Change Makers can create Meaningful Change since:

- A) They drive immediate Omnidimensional Change (i.e. apply across all Universal Dimensions of Intrinsicity, including the 4 new levels that are Quantum, Identity, Construct and Character)
- B) They are Unilateral (i.e. Science Making requires authentic species level Sapient Potential)
- C) They are the hardest to undo (because you cannot deactualise authentic science)

Exchanges: Places and processes that governs the conversion or transfer in ownership of Changes.

Promise: A binding contract made by a Change Maker, it cannot be broken without severe consequences – principally, a significant reduction in Worthiness that leads to rapid Sapience Inhibition and any other consequences that may have been agreed when the promise was initially made. Examples include Marriage vows and conducting Exchanges. The severity of consequences are determined in the Quantum by the Determination (or lack thereof) and accountability of the Promise Breaker concerned.

One final point...

About the dinosaurs, remember:

- ▶ Time is a Social Construct. Without Change Makers existing here on Earth, time didn't need to exist. Although it was hundreds of millions of years by today-time, its likely to have all happened in the blink of an eye (a bit like how religious texts describe it to have done). This doesn't make the dinosaurs, their bones or their extinction any less real. Just that there was no one around to enjoy such a time, at that point in time.
- ▶ All Changes were put here for the enjoyment of Change Makers. Dinosaurs no doubt were extremely enjoyable, but they represented the early days of Change Making (for DEI, anyway) and were clearly limited in what they could achieve, having never built an international space station during their time on Earth compared to what the Human Race has achieved in 300,000 years.
- ▶ The art of Change means the Dinosaurs may never have existed at all. Their bones may simply have been put there in order to encourage and nurture the archeological industry to explore more about our past. Who knows.
- ▶ But that seems unlikely, given the significance of being authentic to Change Makers in general. The general rule of thumb about being authentic is what you see before you is what you get. Its far more likely we allowed them to go extinct so we could improve T-Rex into Sexy Rexie the doggy woggy.

Deilight Consulting

Now, make a Difference that truly matters
If you're reading this, it's your turn to help an Other

CAUTION: HIGHLY AUTHENTIC INFORMATION

Only suitable for the curious, the worthy and the real

THOUGH WE MAY HAVE TRIGGERED GLOBAL FINANCIAL COLLAPSE. MOTHS CAUSED IT TO BEGIN WITH. THEY ONLY EVER BLAME OTHERS FOR THEIR FAILURES. BUT HUMAN BEINGS, WE NEVER FAIL.

Issued by Deilightrfully Sapient Council of the Meritocratic Republic of Humanity

Intended for engaging resonance far and wide, across every dimension of space & time.

Accountability notices: Registered in England and Wales as Deilight Consulting (UK) Ltd (#13637145)